These following are some photos from the Oxford Trade Program that I was the director of for 10 years. The program was a partnership between St. Peter's College, Oxford University, and George Mason University. The program averaged between 40-50 graduate students in international transactions each semester. It also included graduate business students from the Wharton School and mid-career participants. This was a four-week program with a week in Geneva at the WTO, ITU, UNCTAD, WIPO, USTR (Geneva) and other trade institutions. While at Oxford the students had assignments with various multinationals such as Goldman Sacks, Credit Suisse and Ford.

ST PETER'S CELEBRATES TEN YEARS OF ITS ANNUAL GLOBAL TRADE PROGRAMME

July 2003 marked the tenth anniversary of St Peter's Annual Global Trade Programme, recognized for its cutting-edge approach to these critical issues. St Peter's developed the acclaimed Programme with the joint leadership of alumnus, Distinguished Professor of Law & International Trade, Stuart Malawer, of George Mason University, renowned for his seminal teaching and writing in this fast-evolving area. Dr Kees de Kluyver, Dean of the Drucker School of Management of Claremont University, has in recent years assumed management of the programme. Drs Malawer and de Kluyver are pictured celebrating the anniversary with the Hon. Dr Peter S. Watson OM, Visiting Professor at St Peter's, and President & CEO of the Overseas Private Investment Corporation (OPIC).
